we are hosting the representative of the ninth generation of the famous Slovenian family company Perger 1757 - Lucian Perger. It's always interesting to hear stories about family businesses that not only continue the Slovenian tradition of gingerbread and candle making, but also make it interesting for some of the most demanding global markets with their innovation and quality. No wonder, then, that among the users of their products were such famous names as, for example, Queen Elizabeth, Luciano Pavarotti, Pope John Paul II, Nelson Mandela and Donald Trump with his wife Melania, the Sheikh of Dubai and others.

Meet Lucian and find out what can be done from Honey and Honeycomb and listen to many interesting stories and secrets of this wonderful art craft.

You are cordially invited to get to know Slovenian tradition and culture with Lucian Perger.
